Subject: Let's fight for clean energy in Massachusetts!

Solar energy is booming in Massachusetts, but it won't last. The state legislature imposed an arbitrary cap and without immediate action, residents and businesses will not be able to connect to the grid, meaning new solar projects will stop.

Join ELM as we fight for solar's future.

But it's more than solar. New England's greatest natural resource, off-shore wind, could double the clean energy lost when the Pilgrim nuclear plant shuts down. Companies with decades of successful off-shore wind experience want to build a new industry here. But the Legislature won't act.

Why are these options stalled? Simple. Follow the money. Legislators are listening to utilities that make their money from natural gas and hydro, not from wind and solar. They make their money from infrastructure, building multi-state gas pipelines that keep us tied to fossil fuels and ensure their profits.

We need your help to push back and demand what's best for Massachusetts, not what's best for the utility shareholders. We will work with environmental champions and challenge adversaries. We will continue to build alliances with business and labor so that together we can speak truth to power. We will run "Boot Camps" for young environmentalists with training on environmental policy, advocacy, grassroots organizing, and communications. We will make health is at a critical crossroads. ELM knows that Massachusetts need additional natural gas capacity, Massachusetts needs clean energy that reduces carbon pollution while providing economic benefits. Join us and together we will fight for a clean energy future.
